

A Trail of Hope ... a Bittersweet Journey of Faith, Hope, and Love ...

This photographic journey, A Trail of Hope, by author Frankie Taylor Fisher, documents the true and tragic story of Hope, a gravely injured fawn, that she desperately tried to save. It is a story for all ages; one of compassion, kindness and empathy for the defenseless. This twenty-one week saga will tug at your heartstrings and challenge you to become better stewards of nature and wildlife. This is a story that must be shared as you come away admiring her relationship with this beautiful and endearing fawn. All too frequently wild animals are injured or killed by easily prevented man-made hazards. Taylor Fisher seeks to improve public consciousness towards the way ones actions can adversely affect local wildlife.
