

Contribute: Hassle-Free Content Control

Macromedias Contribute allows Web Professionals to save the time spent performing content updates, by devolving the responsibility and know-how back to the content owners. You identify which areas of which pages users are allowed to update, and they can do this with no technical know-how and with no risk of breaking the site. The net result? They get content updated when they need it - and you get time to spend on Web Design. After all, isnt that why you got into the Web in the first place? This book teaches you all you need to know on setting up the system ... and, uniquely, youre entitled to unlimited free downloads of the glasshaus Contribute End-User Training Guide. By distributing it to the content owners, you empower them and liberate yourself. What this book covers: Site Definitions and Connections Links, Images, and Non-HTML Documents Customizing Contribute Best Practices Selling Contribute to your users and management Training users Supporting Contribute Using Templates in Contribute Editing dynamic web sites with server-side includes From the Publisher This book is for web professionals and site owners who will administer Contribute, and those responsible for training end-users in an organization.
