

Card by Card: Adventures At The Bridge Table

This book gives the reader a chance to watch an expert play a number of hands, either as declarer or defender. Most of the hands come from the authors own experience in top-level play. As usual in this type of presentation, the reader is offered the opportunity to make his own decisions at critical points in the play, and will be able to learn from situations where an expert took a different line of play - rightly or wrongly! It is aimed at advanced skill levels.
