

Cyber Defense (2nd ed.)

The US military is preparing for 21st Century electronic warfare and cyber terrorism. A joint US Cyber Command and four service cyber commands have been set up. Their mission is to defend American military networks and civilian American infrastructure from cyber terrorism and from foreign government hackers. The officers leading these cyber commands explain how they are organized, how they operate, and how they will protect the United States from foreign military hackers, intelligence agencies, and cyber terrorists. 13,450 words
