

Its Your Call

For about 25 years, Marshall Miles was the moderator of an all-star bidding panel for a California bridge publication. This book is a compilation of his favorite bidding problems from those years, together with the panels views and Miles own trenchant comments. As ever, he is prepared to go his own way; he refuses, for example, to assign scores to various bids on the grounds that he wasnt going to give himself 20/100 when he knew his answer was right, even if no one on the panel agreed with him! A bonus section includes Miles latest thoughts and recommendations on a number of cutting-edge bidding ideas.
