Excerpt from John Henry Ketcham: Late a Representative From New York; Memorial Addresses, Fifty-Ninth Congress, Second Session, House of Representatives, February 24, 1907, Senate of the United States, March 2, 1907 This being the day designated by the Constitution for the annual meeting of Congress, the Members of the House of Representatives assembled in their Hall for the second session of the Fifty-ninth Congress, and at 12 o'clock m. were called to order by the Speaker. The Rev. Henry N. Couden, D.D., Chaplain of the House, offered the following prayer: Eternal God, our heavenly Father, source of all good, our hearts instinctively turn to Thee for wisdom, strength, and guidance as we thus gather from all sections of our Union here under the Dome of its Capitol to conclude the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress. We bless Thee for the laws with which Thou hast surrounded us, for the intelligence with which Thou hast endowed us, for the riches which have come down to us out of the past, for the splendid opportunities of the present, and for the bright hopes and promises of the future. Grant, O most merciful Father, that these, Thy servants may strive diligently to conform their resolves and harmonize their enactments with the laws which Thou hast ordained. Let Thy richest blessings descend upon the Speaker of this House, that with characteristic zeal, energy, and courage he may guide through all its deliberations to the highest and best results.
