

EXPERIENCES that Led to Higher Heights and Deeper Depth in JESUS CHRIST my Personal Saviour

Metaphorically, the processing of one's life experiences, whether negative or positive, can be compared to that of processing raw meat. For our natural diet, meat is always presented to us in a raw state but it is virtually always cooked done before eating. This is a repeated process. Eating the resulting process enables the natural body and mind to grow into a stronger state. Likewise, the resulting process of handling raw and ongoing life experiences result in a stronger spiritual state of mind by the Grace of God. Having a good relationship with Jesus Christ guarantees becoming better equipped in processing each subsequent experience. We eventually become a strong and grown spiritual being. This is a process that obviously does not come over night.
