MARRIAGE is a subject of interest to all adults, and at one time in almost every life it is the vision that fills the horizon. To many it is a mirage. To a few it proves to be the hills from whence cometh their strength. The rising sun of romance tips every blade of grass, every leaf and flower and twig, with the mystery and miracle of color and perfume. The noonday light reveals truth that the half-light of the dawn could not show. And evening twilight garners all the richness of marriage. The purpose of this book is to enlighten by bringing into the light of day experiences that must come into the lives of women and men. Alice Hubbard.
