

Women of the African Ark 2012 Calendar

Africa is home to more than a thousand indigenous tribes. Mostly herders, farmers, and hunter-gatherers, these people face deep questions about their future as they are increasingly pressured by national governments to adopt an urbanized lifestyle. Within this context, some tribal women are questioning their traditional roles. Women of the African Ark portrays women from ten tribal cultures: Ethiopians Hamar and Bumi peoples; Kenyas Samburu, Turkana, and Maasai; Malis Songhay and Bella; Namibias Himba and San; and Nigers Tuareg who are still living and adorning themselves in traditional style. With impending change as a backdrop, the twelve images in this calendar take on a precious significance. Printed on FSC certified paper with soy-based inks.
